Year one made dens for small animals in the wood.

Who might live in these dens?

They are constructed using sticks stuck in the mud and plenty of leaves for camouflage.

A den needs to be safe from predators and watertight. It should be strong and warm and an entrance for the animal to enter it.

Some of our dens had beds and food sources in them. Some dens had a toilet and walls. Some dens had a ladder to climb to the roof and a jail to trap any invaders!

What would your den have? Why not have a go at building one outside, soon.
